

New Hire Resources video transcript

Congrats – Welcome to the site

Voiceover:

Hey, you made it.

First off, congrats on the new job!

Now it's time to choose a new health plan to go along with it.

Remember, you've got 60 days to make a decision.

The clock is ticking and I'm sure you're eager to get going, so we won't bore you with a whole bunch about ourselves right now... but...we will say this

...if you haven't heard of Aetna, you should definitely dig a little deeper, talk to your friends, ask a coworker and check us out.

We've been around since 1853, have over 23 million members and provide access to over 1 million health professionals nationwide. Above all, for more than 50 years, we've been dedicated to people – just – like – you – working in the federal government.

Now back to your awesome new situation.

On this site you'll find information about our medical, dental and vision plans. All designed to give you access to high-quality care, while looking after your financial well-being.

New Hire Resources video transcript

Continued

And if you're new to picking a health plan or just want a little guided assistance...check out Ask ALEX. It's a step-by-step, question and answer tool to help you find the plan that fits for your personal situation.

Also, be sure to check out the discount programs page on this site. We offer lots of discounts on everyday health needs from eyeglasses to gym memberships to massage therapy.

Lastly, at any point during the process, if you're ready to make a selection, just hit the "enroll now" button. That will take you to a page with instructions on how to sign up for your new plan.

From all of us at Aetna, cheers to your new job, new opportunities, and a healthy new you.